

Rich Media extension: your Multi-MediaWiki

In your Wiki you want to use all kinds of media you like: music, films and documents of all formats (e.g. mp3, mpg, pdf, doc etc.). Too bad that this is not implemented in standard MediaWiki. All the better that you can have it by using the Rich Media extension.

The Rich Media extension provides an ontology to allow easy handling of many different media types. It comprises templates, forms and examples and even enhances a one-click media upload with annotation possibilities. Moreover, you can organize and drag&drop your files on your server particularly simple via WebDAV.

Showcase anything you want in your Wiki, get your message across or simply entertain your visitors - with the Rich Media extension.
